Runners ascending Big Butte shortly after the 11K start.

The YMCA sponsored the Big Butte Challenge again with the 1M, 5K, and the featured 11K all starting at 9 a.m. The 5K course was new and the winning times established new course records.

Local runner Ray Matteson sprinted to victory in the male 5K, beating collegiate runner Eric Jones who is originally from Clancy. Susan Kaluza won the female 5K for the fifth consecutive time in 20:17.

Mary Dean chipped 15 seconds off her own course record in winning the female 11K in 51:11. Bozeman's Shawn Marshall-Pryde (who is known in Montana as a national class summer biathlete, an event which combines running with rifle marksmanship) won the male 11K in 43:19.
