

Finish, Timing, & SWAG

You can help the timers by wearing your race number easily visible on your front, and by NOT pinning your tear-tag which is located on the bottom of your number.

You will finish your race when you cross under the balloon arch near the Homestake Trailhead. Stop running at that time and let the personnel there tear off the bottom tag on your race number. Then please move away and stay away from the finish area, and do not attempt go back up the trail. Our assigned “trail Nazis” have license to harshly enforce this rule. Your fellow runners will appreciate being allowed to finish their races unobstructed and unescorted. If you are strongly motivated to watch other runners finish, then you should walk widely around to a viewing area far above or below the finishing trail.

Please avoid obstructing or engaging the timing crew, and instruct your “posse” of friends and family to do the same. Our timers pride themselves on efficient accuracy, and interruptions confuse their efforts.

At the trailhead, you will find your race t-shirt (if you ordered one), 50/50 raffle tickets for those who bought any, Wulfsocks for the first-50 registrants, your gear bag, refreshments (water and granola bars), and a ‘honey bucket.’

Preliminary race results will be immediately available at the post-race picnic and final results will be reported to the press and posted online within 24 hours.

Tomorrow is the last day to cancel your registration for partial credit.

For those new to Wulfman's CDT-14K informational postings, please study the highlighted sections (at least) of previous links below.